Assuming FERC approval of the reforms approved by the PJM Members Committee, and given your understanding of the benchmarking data, do you support pursuing any other ARR/FTR market reforms at this time?

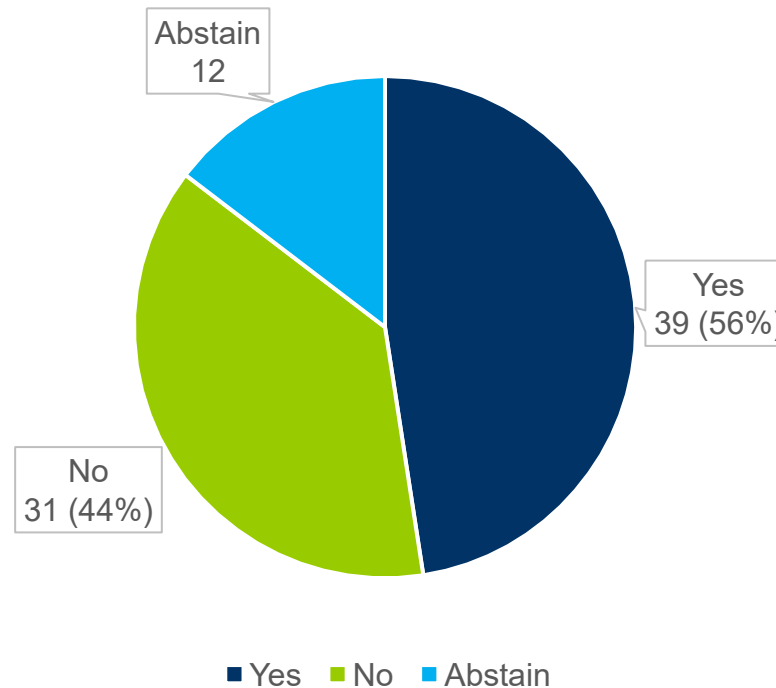

If you prefer continuing to pursue additional ARR/FTR market reforms at this time:

Should the annual ARR/FTR products be retained (i.e. retain the “status quo”)?

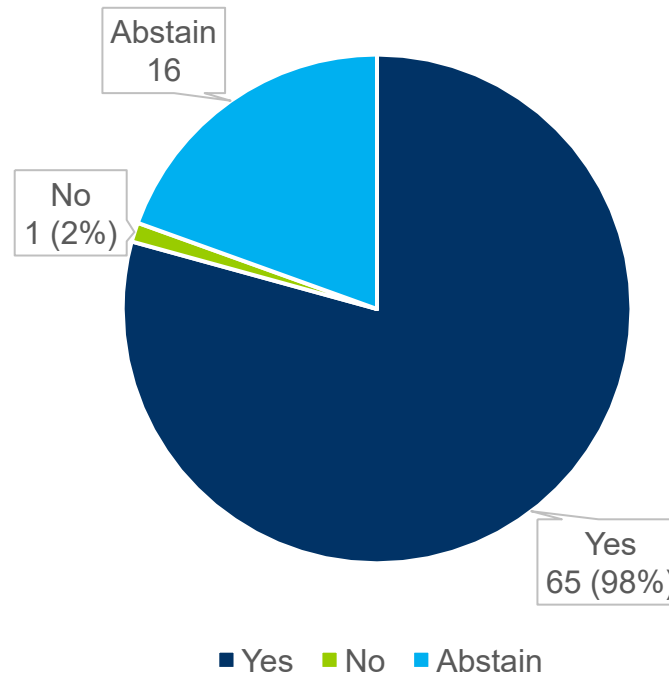

If you prefer continuing to pursue additional ARR/FTR market reforms at this time:

Should the annual ARR/FTR products be converted to seasonal products?

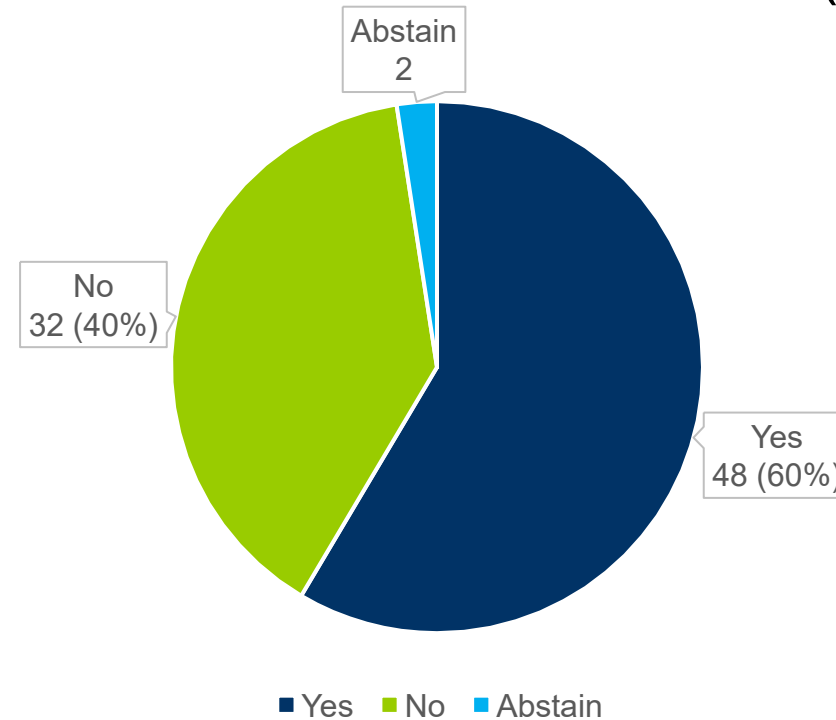

If you prefer continuing to pursue additional ARR/FTR market reforms at this time:

Should the annual ARR/FTR products be retained and seasonal products be added (recognizing that fewer rounds would be required)?

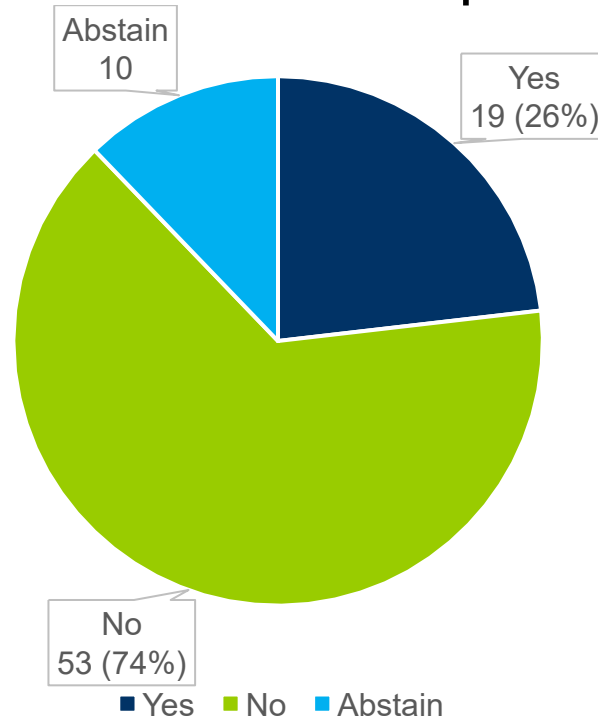

If you prefer continuing to pursue additional ARR/FTR market reforms at this time, what types of process changes should the AFMTRF pursue to simplify conduct of auctions with the goal of allowing additional products?

Adjustment to the structure of the annual auction (e.g. number of rounds)

Modifications to overlapping periods and/or class types

- Allow September, 2022 Phase I (New FTR Product Type) and February 2023 Phase II (ARR changes) to be implemented before starting new product and enhancement discussion
- Revisit the desire to start new product and enhancement discussion in Q4 of 2023/Q1 of 2024
- If the AFMTF decides to move forward with new product and enhancement discussion. Revise the AFMTF charter to reflect the new work desired by the AFMTF
